

In Focus

Social Emotional Learning Curriculum

Last March we piloted this program and have implemented it school-wide for the 2016-2017 School Year.

JUST THE FACTS

- 10-15 minutes social emotional lesson, 4-5 days a week
- Structure and sequence of lessons are built on the findings of extensive brain research

Why add In Focus?

- Emotion plays a major role in every intellectual process and is a driving force in how children's brains organize themselves.
- Students who are taught social and emotional learning are better behaved, more positive, and less anxious than students who aren't taught these lessons.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

- Ask your student what they learned during their In Focus lesson each day.
- Have a conversation about their learning and encourage them to use the strategies from the In Focus program.
